Bow Junction delivers a diverse blend of hard driving bluegrass with gospel, folk, blues, country, and even a little bit of Celtic. Hailing from central New Hampshire, this seasoned five-member band has been entertaining New England audiences at town fairs, concert stages, and church halls for many years. Their influences include Bill Monroe, Doc Watson, Johnny Cash, Earl Scruggs, Ricky Skaggs, Emmylou Harris, and many more.

Equally at home whether flatpicking or performing fingerstyle, Russ Aubertin plays rock-solid rhythm and lead guitar. Pete Odom is known for his talent at creating tasteful backup work, lead breaks on the banjo and rhythm guitar. Kathy Barnes is the "Bow" in Bow Junction with her impeccable taste and timing on the fiddle. Linda Magoon provides spark and drive on the mandolin. Randy Hencke's smooth and subtle bass keeps Bow Junction in time, on time and in tune. Everyone takes their turn at lead and harmony vocals.
